COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

HUNTINGDON, PENNSYLVANIA 16652

NOTICE

The Huntingdon County Commissioners and the Huntingdon County Emergency Management Agency have conducted numerous meetings to address the impact of access to public records and the need to provide safety and security for Huntingdon County employees and members of the general public in response to the COVID-19 outbreak in 2020.

Effective immediately, County Offices will remain open by appointment only. To set up an appointment, please call the department you would like to see directly. Phone numbers are available on the County website, or you may call the Commissioner's Office at (814)643-3091 to be directed to the appropriate office. Office numbers will also be posted on the doors of County Buildings.

The Commissioners request that everyone entering the County Buildings thoroughly wash and sterilize their hands before conducting any business in County Offices.

The Commissioners have advised employees to keep a safe distance from members of the public while answering questions or providing requested information.

The Commissioners and Emergency Management Agency have developed a questionnaire to be presented to all individuals seeking to enter any offices in County Buildings. The questionnaire will require individuals to disclose any recent travels to areas where COVID-19 or its derivatives were detected and whether individuals have had unprotected contact with individuals with symptoms of COVID-19.

Affirmative answers will be considered ground to delay direct access. If materials are readily available or obtainable, County employees may be able to retrieve copies of requested materials.

The emergency Court procedures have been posted on the County Website on the Courts department page. Residents are referred to the website. For Court-related questions, you may also call Court Administration (814)643-5078. Although the Courthouse will be subject to the same restrictions as all County Buildings, the Court will remain open to handle emergency situations. The Sheriff's Office will also remain open.
